Advanced Broadcast Solutions is proud to team with Elemental Technologies and the Society of Broadcast Engineers Chapter 124 to demonstrate innovative video transcoding solutions poised to change the face of digital broadcast and media distribution.

Join us at a roadshow event this April for a demonstration of Elemental's transcoding solutions for live and on demand video conversion. Learn how products from Elemental can help provide all your video content simultaneously to any screen, including the iPad and iPhone – it's Media Multiplied™.

Whether you're a broadcaster fine tuning an automated workflow or a content provider creating multiple files or streams for distribution over the Internet, Elemental has a solution to support your application.

At these events, you'll have the chance to see hands-on product demonstrations and talk to ABS and Elemental staff. Better yet, lunch will be served!
